  - Expense Support Specialists receive submitted expense reports for review and approval.
  - Additional approvers will be triggered depending on the information included in the report.

- Approvers – The approvers for a submitted expense report will be based on the information contained in your report. E.g., If the expense line contains a grant worktag, then that will be routed to the Grant Manager for approval.

- New Expenses – There are two types of expenses you can submit, Manual and Credit Card Transactions. For credit card transactions, you will receive a notification in Workday to reconcile and can start the expense report from that page. These transactions also appear in the drop-down menu when adding a new expense report.

- Expense Fields – Depending on the transaction and your HR profile, certain fields will populate on your expense report. Besides the required fields, ensure at least one of the four fields are entered: Gift, Grant, Designated or Project prior to submission. When entering the Expense Item field, you can use the expense item group to narrow down results.

- Itemization – Use Itemization when you need to split the expense between more than one worktag string (accounts) or more than one expense item. Some expense items require itemization such as, Hotel Accommodations (domestic and international).
